CLAUDIO MARIOTTO

Tortona | Piedmont

Founded in the 1920s' by great-grandfather Bepi, Claudio Mariotto's family have been making wine in the Tortona hills of Piedmont for generations. Today the winery is run and managed by Claudio, with the help of his partner Rossana, his brother Marco and his mother Piera. They have 100 hectares of land, 50 of which are planted with vines. Located in the municipalities of Tortona and Sarezzano, they work solely with native grape varieties, including Freisa, Croatina, and Barbera, but their real focus, their passion, and the majority of their production is dedicated to Timorasso.

Timorasso 101

Timorasso, an exceptional Italian grape, narrates a tale of tenacious revival. Once on the verge of vanishing, this grape now stands as a testament to persistence and rediscovery.

What distinguishes Timorasso is its captivating aromatic complexity—hints of citrus, subtle herbs, and a compelling mineral essence. This intricate flavor profile pays homage to tradition and the meticulous efforts that have safeguarded its heritage. Thriving in regions like Piedmont, Timorasso bridges the past and the present, inviting wine enthusiasts to savor the rejuvenation of time-honored flavors in a modern context.

It's more than a comeback; it's an ode to legacy and a celebration of dedication.

Claudio conducted thorough research into how to manage this notoriously difficult varietal, and in turn has become a benchmark producer of this varietal, producing authentic wines, with lots of personality. The wines show concentration, minerality, complexity, typicity, and impeccable oak integration.
